Special to The Courier.
MOUNT PLEASANT, Aug. 25.—A ghost that walks regularly every Thursday and Sunday haunts the home of Andrew Sauer, on Cedar avenue. "Give us meat, in hell I die," the ghost is said to have replied to Mrs. Sauer's frantic demand to know why the specter haunts the cellar of the home. The family has become seriously unnerved by the frequent visits of the ghost, which has been seen by three members of the family, although it persistently refuses to make its appearance when others are around.

It was five years ago that the apparition first was seen by Mrs. Sauer. It disappeared, to return within the past two months. Knowing that they would be ridiculed, Sauer and his wife said little about the specter. Up to that time they, alone, had witnessed the strange antics of the shade. A few days ago, however, Miss Marie Quaker, a sister of Mrs. Sauer's, ran into the cellar in which she went into the dining room to turn on the light. Her screams aroused the neighbors and the story came out. Since that time every effort has been made to exorcise the ghost, but without success.

Last Thursday the family held its first conversation with the uncanny visitor. Sauer heard a tapping on the wall and someone moving. He went to the place the ghost always appears, in the cellarway just off the dining room. He saw the shade and made a dive for it. It vanished in thin air. Sauer insisted upon his wife coming down. They both found their visitor had returned.

"In the name of the Father, Son and Holy Ghost, what do you want?" demanded Mrs. Sauer. "Give us meat, in hell I die," was the deep-toned response. "What troubles you?" demanded the ghost, who then Sauer's face betrayed his perturbation. Before either could reply it disappeared. The specter has been seen by a man, wears a flowing white robe, and constantly waves his arms.

Working.

WILMINGTON, Del., Aug. 25.—For the first time in this state, a man was held in jail on a charge of idleness. In the municipal court here, when Alphonse M. Acton was arraigned on a specific charge of breach of the peace, preferred by his wife, Justice Churchman remarked that according to the dictionary, idleness is a crime, according to Blackstone, he would also place that charge against the accused.

Acton was held under a $500 peace bond and ordered to give $500 additional for a hearing next Wednesday on the idleness charge. He was unable to furnish bail.

Latest Picture of General Carranza,

A BIG BATTLE AT ONE TIME*Ohlappie Men Ran Across Neck of Applian on Way to River; Killed
Wharton After Rescue.

In a sharp fight yesterday, Harry Dean and his companions, all of Ohlappie, killed 23 copperheads and a rattlesnake. The young men were walking along the tramroad of the Kendall Lumber Company towards Beaver Creek when they came upon the reptiles. They attacked them with clubs and succeeded in killing the entire family.

The rattlesnake was unusually large. It had 10 rattles and a button. Some of the copperheads were declared to have been as thick as a big man's arm. Some days ago, W. E. Herwick and William Shipley, both of Indian Creek, discovered a den of copperheads under a huge rock near Shawman. They used dynamite and succeeded in exterminating them all. Snake stories, although still starting this year, are evidently coming after the record.

George Murphy is alleged to have killed a huge rattler with his bare hands near the Wharton Furnace last week. The snake was 50 inches long. It was killed after being brought to Uniontown and the skin will be preserved.

pany of Alverton, Have Offices Here.

The Stoner Coal Company and the Pittsburgh Steam Coal Company have been merged under the name of the Connellsville Coal & Coke Company. An application for a charter will be made in Harrisburg this week.

With the exception of J. R. Bailey of Fairmont, who is secretary and manager of the Stoner Coal Company, all of those interested in the two firms will hold their stock. Mr. Bailey disposed of his holdings to W. D. McGinnis, who was president of the Stoner Coal Company.

The consolidation, it is expected, will give the joint company a better opportunity for expansion. With two plants, one at Opekeka and the other at Montana, W. Va., with a maximum production of 1,000 tons per day, the Pittsburgh Steam Coal Company has been doing an excellent business. While the operations of the Stoner Coal Company were not quite so extensive, the Stoner mine at Alverton, near Gettysburg, now has an output of 900 tons daily.

The Pittsburgh Steam Coal Company recently installed several thousand dollars worth of new machinery which will handle adequately the output of the mines for some time to come. The company has 100 acres of coal.

In addition to shipping coal the company will make coke. Twenty acres at the Elizabeth plant at Montana will be added to the main office of the company will be in this city. A meeting is to be held within a few days when officers will be elected.

Underground.

About 5,000 persons, mostly miners and their families, gathered at Oakford Park Saturday afternoon for the second annual Pittsburgh First Aid mine tests under the direction of the Pittsburgh committee of the State Y. M. C. A. The meeting was in charge of T. D. Dill, general secretary.

There were 25 teams entered, representing the following companies: Jamison Coal & Coke Company, Westmoreland Coal Company, Penn. Major Robert W. Patterson, Medical Corps, U. S. Army, was the presiding judge. The Pittsburgh Bureau of Mines was represented by C. O. Roberts of Pittsburgh and the Red Cross by Dr. W. N. Lippincott of Washington.

The teams headed by a band, marched to the demonstration field. There were three teams of women, wives and daughters of miners, two from the Pittsburgh-Baltimore Coal Company's mines, near Irwin, and one from the Andover mine of Herminie. These teams gave demonstrations of how to treat fractures and burns, and of artificial respiration. The test problems numbered 24, including all accidents that happen in the mines. The prizes included a handsome silver cup, a self-help mining lesson, an American Red Cross cabinet.

Major Patterson selected Dr. S. W. Patterson of Galitzin, Pa., Dr. Edward Parson of South Fork and Dr. J. H. Jackson of Jonesburg as judges in the demonstration. The judges declared the following winners: Mace team of the Westmoreland Coal & Coke Company, silver cup and Red Cross and American mining safety medals; with 7 points; second, Jamison Coal Company team of Crabtree, with 26 4/5 points; third, Penn. Gas Coal Company of Penn Station, with 26 3/5 points.

The showing of the West Penn team received commendation from many of the officials in charge of the meet. The only team on the grounds unfamiliar with mine rescue work, the Mace team, secured a commendation of 91 1/5, standing seventh in a competition in which 19 teams were entered.

The Chautauqua which opens here on Friday is one of 110 in the present circuit which started in the south last May. The literary began on May 18 and will continue until it is too late for further outdoor gatherings. This system began down in Georgia May 18th and has come through 110 of the larger cities in the states of Georgia, Alabama, Tennessee, Kentucky, Indiana, Ohio, Michigan and Pennsylvania. The same program that comes here has been put on with success in cities of the size of Birmingham, Ala., with a population of 175,000, Chattanooga 100,000, Savannah 75,000 and Indianapolis 250,000. The Pennsylvania circuit includes Greenville, Beaver Falls, Franklin, Butler, Washington, Uniontown and Greensburg. The host table is put on the program and no such high class entertainment has yet been presented in one week, as is thus offered. Such musical numbers as Redpath Grand Opera Company, Bohemian Kory and his band, Heron-Mark Company, the Harmon Orchestra are to be found nowhere else in one week. The Ben Greets are the real English players and this same company has just completed a tour from coast to coast visiting 100 of the larger cities.

The debate on Socialism between Emil Selbit, ex-mayor of Milwaukee and late Vice Presidential candidate on the Socialist ticket, and Adam C. Brown, Republican Congressman from Minnesota, will be given at 8 o'clock, both men "hard-boiled" along the lines they uphold.

Mrs. Isabel Gonghill Beecher is the highest priced woman reader in America and her work along the circuit has been a continual ovation. Dean W. T. Sumner, head of the vice crusade movement in Chicago, is the highlight and has a message that every patriotic citizen should hear. Ex-Governor Joseph W. Folk of Missouri need no introduction. He has been here before.

Ralph Bingham is the best known humorist and can draw a hearty laugh out of the roughest man in town. There will be 15 sessions with two features at each session so that the holder of a season ticket is getting the best of the circuit at 10 cents each or moving picture prices.

A vigorous ticket campaign was begun this morning and will be pushed to completion before Friday. Besides the tickets in hands of solicitors and vendors, the tickets are on sale at the following business places: Crowley-McIntire Company, Title and Trust Company, Frank Huston Drug Store, Graham's Drug Store, Keegan's Drug Store, Aaron Furniture Company, Kolbecker's, Wertheimer's, E. W. Horner's, Wright-Metzler Co., First National Bank, Second National Bank, Citizens Bank, W. T. Muir, Smith, Horan, E. Dunn, J. M. C. Collins, Drug Store, A. C. Morehead's Cafe and others to be announced later. Graham's Drug Store is the official headquarters and any information desired can be obtained by applying there.

COUNCILMANIC CLASH IS PROMISED TOMORROW NIGHT*Both Friel and Burns Call Special Meeting; Democrats Will Also Meet This Evening.

Frank Friel's third attempt within a week to hold a meeting of Town Council will be made this evening. He asserts that he will continue to call his men together each night until such time as the opposition is prepared for a show down.

The McCormick men will not attend tonight's meeting. They will respond to a call of O. E. Burns for a special meeting tomorrow night. Burns has determined to make Friel step lively if he reaches the chair first Tuesday evening. He has called his meeting for 7 o'clock, and has impressed on his followers the necessity of being on the scene early.

What step Friel will take to counter this move is conjectural. He will also call a special meeting for Tuesday night.

FUNNY MEN TO MEETPress Humorists Will Make Merry at

PEORIA, Ill., Aug. 25.—The American Press Humorists' Association men who write the funny columns in the newspapers and those who have survived the ordeal and are now engaged in other walks of life, will conduct their tenth annual convention here, opening tomorrow and running through until Sunday.

The association was organized in Baltimore in 1903 by Henry Warton, of the Baltimore Sun. The members came together at that time for the purpose of getting acquainted, and the affair was so successful that they have since continued to meet annually. The organization holds the record of conducting the shortest business sessions. It usually requires one hour in which to elect officers and select the next city in which to meet.

ROBBERY IS ALLEGEDTwo are Arrested for Holding Up a Purchaser.

Constable William Roland yesterday made two arrests in connection with the holding up of John Fitch, a Layton foreigner, Thursday night. The prisoners are Joe French, a negro whose residence is on the West Side, and a white man named Calvin. But after considering the matter, announced that the position of mayor would require more time than he feels at liberty to give, without sacrificing his other business interests; a move that he does not feel justified in making. Mr. Madigan's withdrawal left the field open and Rockwell Marietta was induced to run.

For council the Democrats will have a fight. W. A. Bishop, S. A. Goodwin, B. L. Berg and L. L. West are candidates for the nomination. Friends are urging John J. Buttermore to announce. Bishop and Berg are already in council. Duggan, a used to be and O. Goodwin's entry into the lists keeps his persistent candidate for something for some years past.

A. G. Bisher is the Democratic candidate for controller and may be endorsed by the Bull Mooseers. John L. Gans, it is stated, has consented to become a Bull Moose candidate for council. The Washington party leaders one time entertained the idea of endorsing Bisher for mayor, and are willing that he should be the next controller.

The meeting tonight of the Republican party will determine the lineup on a fusion ticket. It is said that opposition to the fusion movement comes principally from candidates who fail to endorse the suggestion that they step aside in favor of a compromise ticket.

Filing the Nomination Petitions.

An open caucus for the purpose of discussing a fusion movement will be held at the Smith House tonight by representatives of the Republican and Washington parties. Efforts will be made to decide upon a ticket acceptable to both. Although several names will likely be presented for mayor, it is said that J. Fred Kurtz is the most likely choice. Mr. Kurtz has not indicated his attitude, but those who are nursing his boom declare that he will accept. He is a Republican and the fact that he hasn't been bitten by the Bull Moose bug is said to have caused objections to be raised against him among the radical element of the Washington party, one W. H. Showman. Other Bull Mooseers express confidence that Kurtz will be strongly supported by their party. Robert Norris is also being urged in some quarters as the fusion candidate.

Tomorrow is the last day for filing nomination petitions at Uniontown and the lines are being closely drawn. Unless there is an eleven-hour shift, the program is now pretty well mapped out. The Democrats have, after much bucking and filling, decided upon Rockwell Marietta as their candidate for mayor. Mr. Marietta reluctantly consented to accept the offer. He will have no opposition, J. D. Madigan having withdrawn. Madigan was put forward by his friends, who went to the trouble of preparing his petition. They declare he would have made the best fight of any candidate yet suggested in that party. Mr. Madigan was tempted to enter the fight, but after considering the matter, announced that the position of mayor would require more time than he feels at liberty to give, without sacrificing his other business interests; a move that he does not feel justified in making. Mr. Madigan's withdrawal left the field open and Rockwell Marietta was induced to run.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 25.—President Wilson declared today that he will read his special message to a joint session of Congress at 1 o'clock tomorrow afternoon unless something unforeseen develops in the Mexican situation.

In your hand you hold a five-cent piece.

Right at the grocer's hand is a moisture-proof package of Uneda Biscuit. He hands you the package—you hand him the coin. A trifling transaction?

Not! A remarkable one—for you have spent the smallest sum that will buy a package of good food; and the grocer has sold you the most nutritious food made from flour—as clean and crisp and delicious as it was when it came from the oven.

SOCIETY.

Surprised by Friends.

The following appeared in the Connelville, O. News-Record, August 19:

"A company of the old friends of H. B. DeYoe of this place numbering about thirty, went to the home of his sister, Mrs. G. L. Hannah, last evening to pay a surprise visit to their old friend and his bride, who are stopping in Connelville on their post-nuptial trip. The gentleman and his wife were taken wholly by surprise, but received the company most cordially and entered into the spirit of the merry-making with hearty zest. The evening passed rapidly in the exchange of friendly greetings and in social games and music, and Mrs. Hannah served the guests with delicious punch, wafers and cakes. As a memento of the occasion and a reminder of his boyhood friends, Mr. DeYoe presented with a picture of the Allen flats, and he responded with heartfelt appreciation of the gift and the spirit of the donors. The evening was indeed a pleasurable one for all present."

PRINTERS HOLD ANNUAL PICNIC AT STONE HOUSE

Third Outing is the Most Successful They Have Held.

AN AWFUL SLAUGHTER OF FOWLS

Roasting Fowl Plentiful and the Mopslugs Championship Stirs Up More Interest than the Coming World's Series; Some Celebration.

The thirteenth anniversary of the founding of the Connelville Local No. 221, International Typographical Union, was celebrated at the old Stone House at Darnley. It was the first picnic the printers have yet held. The other two were large affairs, but this one had a shade the best of it. Chas. B. McCormick, president of the local, says this is so, and he ought to know, but there is just the "stone" that is laid. This is the first year that McCormick has not acted as official cook, and he walked off with the amateur championship in toasting horseshoes. More rivalry developed in the horseshoe contest than appears in a world's series. The professional game was speedily, but along towards evening all of the boys were willing to bet their socks on the "Nigger Hill" devils against the field. There was plenty to eat. There always is. The roasting ears totaled 25, dozens, and no one attempted to count the chickens led up for slaughter. Something like ten gallons of ice cream went down hungry noses, the office boys leading the way to make it go.

It was a "dry" picnic. It always is. The printers began at the outset to stand by the ringing declaration of "millions for burnerville but not one cent for booze." On games of chance they remain silent.

The printers of both newspapers had the affair in charge, and the local room employed, together with other friends were guests. It gave the boys a chance to get acquainted by methods other than "deadly parallels" and such things. J. H. Lant, compiler of the Connelville-Uniontown directory, was on hand. He has a clean slate to date, not having missed a picnic.

The feature of the day was the singing of Ralph Sliger, who introduced the latest song hit from Broadway, "Silver Threads Among the Gold," accompanied by a Victrola furnished by Paul McDonald and operated by that distinguished raconteur, Harry Austin.

The hours were from the 6:30 A. M. train until the 7:21 home.

The household and office effects of H. J. Johnston of the Pioneer Lunch Company, of Belpash Springs, Wyo., arrived at the Stone house this morning and the company will make Darnley its eastern headquarters this winter. The company's cattle and sheep pens are at the Union stock yards, Pittsburg, and the American stock yards in Baltimore.

The "Working Man."

Of all men, the wage earner is the one who most needs a savings account. In a savings account a portion of each week's earnings may be safely deposited, where the money will earn a fair rate of interest and be absolutely safe. In case of accident, loss of work, or other misfortune, the savings account can be relied upon as a means of lifting over the misfortune.

The Citizens National Bank of Connelville, 133 Pittsburg street, invites savings accounts in any amount.—Adv.

Above is shown an excellent model for a serge frock to be worn between seasons when thin frocks are no longer comfortable nor appropriate. And yet the weather does not yet authorize the wearing of wraps. Dark navy blue serge is simply fashioned here into a "dress" little frock with collar of Italian embroidery and little vest of tucked self-toned taffeta, and plain serge, across which is a band of black velvet. Black velvet serves as skirt and such ends and is lined as in front. A taffeta shape trimmed in dark blue mullins is worn with this.

FOR BUREAU

INTERVIEW OF AMERICA.

Pittsburgh Gazette Times.
Senator Penrose, in his exhaustive discussion of the wool schedule of the tariff bill last Friday, laid his finger upon a fundamental difference between the Republican party's protective policy and the Democratic theory of protection which is of the highest importance. The effect of protective duties is to diversify industries and multiply manufacturers, thus not only providing increased employment in mills and shops, but expanding the market for products of the farm. The consequences of the Underwood act will be to subvert the output of competitive commodities abroad while discouraging home manufacturers and utterly failing at every point in its schedule to make any opening whatever for the establishment of new industries in the United States.

This is a consideration which should appeal with especial force to farmers and workmen, for they are the people who will be most affected by the coming change in our economic system. The administration is simply infuriated with the notion that it can increase prosperity by reducing the cost of living. It overlooks the necessity of conserving the means by which a living can be made or earned. Its pending measure assures a better living to European labor engaged in turning out goods for the American market, to the extent that imports shall increase in volume, but it leaves sight of the inevitable result that, in doing this it will lower wages all along the line in competitive industries and in many cases run the risk of actually depriving American men and women of employment.

This is the fatal defect in the Democratic method of adjusting the tariff. There has never been such a possibility contained in the passage of a Republican citizens act. Whatever uncertainty there may have been was merely as to the degree of protection, not as to whether it would be under the banner line and expose the United States to the necessity of descending to the European plane of wages and to a European scale of living. Not out any prospect for the creation of new industries or the expansion of established enterprises, but it has had to abandon completely the pretense that its bill will not injure or destroy any legitimate industry, as was promised by the Baltimore platform. That it will injure and destroy in a number of instances is confessed.

ELECTION TANGLE.

Pittsburgh Post.
Judge Van Swearingen's decision in the Fayette county court that the non-partisan law for cities of the third class is unconstitutional is of interest to Pittsburg as well as throughout the state because it seems to apply to second class cities, too. The decision was foreboding in the fact that nearly all of the judicial cases in the various districts have been filing partisan nomination papers. But to prevent further confusion and possible frustration of the public will at the polls, both should be carried promptly to the higher courts for authoritative interpretation.

If it shall prove that the non-partisan laws are all unconstitutional another instance will be added to a long list wherein the Legislature has not popular opinion with a defective enactment. There is little room for doubt that the non-partisan acts were passed under material pressure of public sentiment grounded in the belief that judicial functions and municipal administrations ought to be free from partisan considerations. It is regrettable that there is more room to doubt the good faith or the capability of legislators who constructed and adopted measures that are probably in conflict with the fundamental law. The state has had other experience of the same kind.

Whatever the decision of the courts on the technical aspects of these acts, we believe the body of citizen electors may be trusted to carry out its ideas of non-partisan selection of certain public officials, even though the machinery of the election laws makes it difficult.

THE DEMOCRATIC COOK BOOK.

Pittsburgh Dispatch.

The high cost of living, declared the Democratic national platform at Baltimore, is a serious problem in every American home. During the campaign the spellbinders, high and low, harped upon this string and promised a solution if the Democracy was victorious. The full market basket was a standby in every Democratic cartoon. In the six months since the new administration took charge the cost of living has continued steadily upward without any announcement as to how the new governmental managers were going to reduce it. Some of them have frankly admitted that they do not now expect the tariff legislation will have any appreciable effect on the cost of living. Market predictions of higher prices next winter certainly do not look like it. But if the Administration is unable to solve the problem, its wives have made a gallant effort. The announcement of the new Democratic cook book, containing the favorite recipes of the leading official households, may help some. From it the perplexed housewives struggling with the problem of making ends meet may learn how the wife of the Vice President makes huckleberry muffins, the wife of the Speaker salt-ribs corn bread, and the composition of the spoon bread that has made the Junior Senator from Kentucky a mountainous man.

The Wilson voters cannot complain that they voted for bread and were given a stone. They have been given a cook book.

Worth Reading.

On the editorial page of The Ladies' Home Journal for September is an article that ought to be read carefully by every woman. In fact there is not a man living that could not profit by carefully reading this article. It is an article about "the woman who buys where she can buy the cheapest," and it will be worth many times the 15c the Journal will cost you to buy a copy if you do not have one, and read it. For almost 40 years this store has been trying to tell you the truth that this article so well conveys—for in all this time this store has been in existence we have kept the fact before you that this store was not a cheap store—one that put price before quality; that it was not a store that sells anything it could, and that it was not a store that lived on the gullibility of the people, always promising something for nothing. We have done business on the principle that there was in this community a fair number of people who were willing to pay a reasonable price for a good article. We call particular attention to this Editorial because it shows better than anything else we have ever read the real reason for the present high cost of living; also, because it shows the woman or man who wants to practice economy the right way to do so. All over the country women and men are honestly trying to be economical and think they are really doing so, when in fact they are almost spendthrifts.

POLITICAL POT STARTS TO BOIL ABOUT SCOTSDALE

But in Some Offices There
Seems Apparently No
Likelihood of Battle

SUCH AS THERE USED TO BE

Burgess, Tax Collector Attract Probably the Major Part of the Interest of the Coming Campaign; Some of Those Talked of for Office; Notes.

Special to The Courier.

SCOTSDALE, Aug. 25.—The political pot is boiling, but it seems to be short in certain ingredients to make up the recipe for a complete, well-seasoned campaign. There is an overwhelming modesty displayed by some of the fellows who want to be voted for, and they are apparently keeping their candidacy as dark as possible, but are still being candidates. There are two candidates in this burg who want to occupy places at the county capital and associate very day with the esteemed officeholders and (renowned) politicians of Greensburg. James M. Kennell, who is known from Dun to Greensburg as a poor director, or rather as a good poor director, and who has been officially as a Director of the Poor, has his eyes turned on the office of county clerk, expecting to enter therein through the narrow, but not untraveled, path of the "Democrat." John M. Hawk, who is now ensconced in the office, desires to remain there wearing the label of Republican. S. I. Topper wishes to put the Washington party into that office in the shape of himself. So a three-cornered struggle is being vigorously waged.

Another county candidate from this place is C. F. Lewis, who is recognized by his fellow townsmen by the name of "Chuck." Lewis, "Chuck," has ambitions to be styled and draw the emoluments of a jury commissioner. His lever that he expects to start for this is with a Republican nomination. Several others also want the job.

In the borough there are some familiar names on the boards for burgesses. W. N. Porter, who has been a burgess for many years, is getting up for the race. Henry Shiley is running his paper announcing his candidacy, and Walter L. Schaffer, president of council, is running his nomination ticket. All are on the Republican ticket, which is more crowded than the Democratic one.

On the Jeffersonian Democratic ticket, one finds the names and positions of the following: J. H. Goshorn, health officer, who has a surprisingly strong faculty resembling to one of the famous men of the past, and Robert M. Young, a brick office man, who has also been a burgess in politics and knows the ropes.

There are three franchises that will expire, it is said, during the terms of the coming burgesses and consequently the people have had much to say on these topics and they will certainly play a large part in the campaign. The water company franchise, the gas company's franchise and the electric franchise all expire during the term.

Council does not seem wildly sought after, nor does it place on the school board. In the first ward C. B. Lee, Joseph Pool and H. G. Marz are named on the Republican ticket, and J. H. Dills on the Democratic ticket as candidates. In the second ward C. M. Jarrett is spoken of. No one has come straight out for the third ward, but in the fourth ward William Hunter and J. C. Horne are spoken of on the Republican ticket, and W. T. Stacey and P. J. O'Connor on the Democratic ticket. Butler and Massey are present Councilmen and O'Connor and Horne former ones.

In the field for school director there are J. M. Zimmerman, J. G. Johnston, H. M. Butth and Dr. W. J. Watt-hour mentioned as the candidates thus far.

In the lists for tax collector R. B. McMillen who has served with satisfaction to the public and Charles S. Wiley, a young banker with good character and known ability are two men who are on both the Republican and Democratic tickets, while C. F. Weiner, a popular merchant, is on for the Democratic nomination.

Altogether the following officers are to be elected this year: A burgess, a tax collector, a justice of the peace, two councilmen in each ward, four school directors at-large, a high constable, a constable in each ward, an assessor in each ward, two borough auditors and a judge of election and two inspectors for each ward, and county commissioners for all parts.

Same Notes on "Origins."

"Humpty Dumpty Sat on a Wall," etc., has come down to us from the days of King John. "The Babes in the Woods" dates from the fifteenth century, being founded upon facts, an old house near Wayland Wood, Norfolk, having the whole story in carvings on a mantelpiece. "Little Jack Horner," "Little Miss Muffet," "Old Mother Hubbard," "Mother Goose" and "Goosey, Goosey Gander" are such traceable to the sixteenth century.

"Pussy Cat, Pussy Cat, Where Have You Been?" belongs to the reign of Queen Elizabeth. "Three Blind Mice" first appeared in a music book dated 1600. "A Froggie Would a-Wooling Go" was licensed to be sung as far back as 1600. "Boys and Girls Come Out to Play" and "Lucy Locket Lost Her Pocket" both hail from the period of Charles II. And, last of all, "Cinderella," "Jack the Giant Killer," "Bluebeard" and "Tom Thumb" were published by their author, Charles Perrault, in the year 1697.—London Notes and Queries.
